FIDELIS CAPITAL PARTNERS, LLC

Who We Are

Fidelis Capital is an advisor-owned wealth management firm, dedicated to helping very successful people gain more time in their lives to enjoy what's most important to them.

We do this by coordinating, clarifying and simplifying all their financial affairs so they can easily make smart decisions that impact their lives, their organizations, their families and their legacies.

With the drastic changes in the private banking model in recent years, our mission is to revive access to a group of experts and give ultra-high-net-worth families, institutions and other clients the kind of team that can manage all — not just some — of their financial matters, giving them back what money can't buy... time.

Fidelis was founded on a shared passion to deliver a higher level of personalized service and a superior private banking experience by surrounding clients with a diverse team of true specialists.

What We Do

The Fidelis team is comprised of some of the industry's most accomplished and recognized private banking professionals. We designed and developed a suite of effective solutions to manage the financial complexity our clients face.

OUR INVESTMENT PHILOSOPHY

Our approach to investing is guided by a disciplined process and a philosophy informed by over 200 years of experience.

We believe that the only investment results that matter are the ones that are after fees, taxes, or other expenses. We therefore work to reduce those elements by (1) managing some client assets in-house, avoiding third party manager fees, (2) being attentive to tax reduction strategies, and (3) focusing on lower cost solutions.

For most of our clients, risk is as important as return, so we spend even more time seeking out ways to lower a client's risk exposure through negatively correlated assets, asset allocation and option strategies.

Asset Class Performance

Fixed Income (August)

- Interest rates rose as markets anticipated a continued hawkish stance from the Federal Reserve in its aim to combat inflation. Bond prices were lower as prices generally move inversely to rates.
- Spread sectors, such as high yield, performed slightly better than the broader fixed income market, but were still negative on an absolute basis.
- Foreign bonds were negatively impacted by a strengthening U.S. dollar and lagged domestic markets.

Equity (August)

- Equities sold off following the Fed's Jackson Hole summit as investors digested rhetoric that suggested a firm Fed stance to fight inflation "until the job is done".
- Uncertainty over commodity supplies, as colder months in Europe approach, put negative pressure on the international developed region.
- + Emerging countries tied to the commodity markets, e.g. Brazil, performed well and helped push EM markets into positive territory in August.

Real Asset/Alternatives (August)

- Higher interest rates were a headwind for REITs in August. In addition, the asset class sold off with the broader risk-off move of equities.
- + Commodities were one of the few positive asset classes in August. Spiking natural gas prices helped support the energy sector, and agriculture performed well.

Fixed Income Market Update

U.S. Treasury Yield Curve

Rates were higher across the yield curve, and it remains inverted. The Fed maintained a hawkish stance coming out of the Jackson Hole summit as it commits to fighting inflation even at the expense of economic growth.

Index Performance Attribution (August 2022)

Higher coupons in spread sectors helped offset some of the negative price impact from interest rates. Credit underperformed Treasuries in the risk-off environment on a duration adjusted basis.

Fixed Income Market Update (cont'd)

Credit Market Spreads

Corporate bond issuance was relatively light in the month, which provided a technical tailwind for the sector. Investment grade corporate spreads narrowed modestly from the start of the month; however high yield spreads widened slightly with the risk-off sentiment in the market. Spread levels remain above the longer-term averages, but lower than earlier in the year and lower than what has typically coincided with concerns around an economic slowdown.

Equity Market Update

Market Capitalization & Style Performance (August 2022)

Equities were broadly negative in August. Market leadership once again reversed as value stocks outpaced growth stocks amid higher interest rates and the prospect of recession loomed over investors' minds. Small cap equities were a bit more resilient across regions, and emerging markets benefitted from its exposure to commodities.

U.S. Equities – Returns by Sector (August 2022)

Despite what has been a relatively favorable earnings season, all sectors in the S&P 500, except for energy and utilities, declined in the month. The move downward occurred in the days following the Fed's Jackson Hole summit, as markets digested the impact of a continued hawkish stance. Energy benefited from rising commodity prices, notably natural gas.

Real Asset Market Update

Real Assets Performance (August 2022)

The conflict between Russia and Ukraine continues to have a heavy hand in the commodity markets, as the invading nation and the rest of Europe wrestle with the uncertainty of natural gas supply as we head into colder seasons. Poor harvests due to drought conditions pushed agriculture prices higher; cotton was a notable contributor within the sector.

REIT Sector Performance (August 2022)

Defensive areas of the REIT market, such as self storage, held up in the broader market sell-off. Areas which are shorter in duration were less impacted by higher interest rates. Office continues to struggle as the working world grapples with the uncertainty of work from home and the future demand for space.
